"Stop Booms To Prevent Depressions"

HERBERT HOOVER
Secretary of Commerce Discusses Business Cycle and Points Out Bad Features of Present System—
Offers Suggestions for Stabilization

WASHINGTON — (Special) — "Boom and slump! Boom and boom! Boom and slump!" That, says Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, is the business cycle.

"Business history, broadly, is a constant succession of alternating, irregularly separated booms and slumps. Why the boom and why the slump? Well, what's the business incentive? Profit or the expectation of profit.

"The business incentive is the expectation of profit. The business incentive is the expectation of profit. The business incentive is the expectation of profit.

RAIL CREWS TO BE WARNED

Running Switches Arouse Ire of Commissioners

Warning to railways that arrests will be made if the practice of train crews in making running switches is not discontinued was made Monday night at commission meeting upon recommendation of Commissioner Harold Cunningham, who was supported by Manager Bingham.

Commissioner Cunningham reported a number of violations of the city ordinance, asserting that the practice of switching of cars without the locomotive is dangerous and train crews should be warned.

Manager Bingham has served notice on railways in the past on running switches, but nothing more than a promise by the utilities to discontinue the practice had been received, he announced.

Commissioners agreed that the practice is a danger at grade crossings unprotected and authorized Police Chief T. A. Lanker and Manager Bingham to enforce the ordinance calling for a maximum fine of $50 for each offense.

CONFESSIOIN IS RULED OUT

Women Have Found Place Says Leader

Survey Shows Weaker
Sex Has Invoaded All
Lines of Industry

CHICAGO—Women have made more progress and have written more into history in the past ten years than in all previous history, Miss Helen M. Bennett, who, with Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, is organizing the woman's progressive exposition, declared in an interview with the United Press today. The exposition, first of its kind, will be held here April 18-25.

FIELD BROADENED
Once upon a time there were only three occupations that "nice girls" would enter, Miss Bennett said. These were teaching, dress-making and keeping boarders.

"Today there are only three occupations that I know of which women have not entered," Miss Bennett stated. "There are blacksmithing, working in steel mills and acting as president of the United States. In time women will hold the latter office, she prophesied.

Women hold an important place in all business and professions, from "bank presidencies to banditry," Miss Bennett said.

The women's exposition is intended to puncture the old theory that women's place is exclusively in the home, Miss Bennett explained.

Where it was formerly believed that woman's duty was to produce only mankind, today, out of some 400 productive occupations, only 25 or 30 are not being aided by women. There is no more, no industrial plant, no pulp, no bank, where there is not some function being performed by the female of the species, Miss Bennett said.

HAVE LANDED
"Women have landed with a resounding thump," Miss Bennett continued. "This is a great year to hold such an exposition. This is the first year in which there have been women governors. There are more women in the legislature than ever before. The purpose of our progressive exposition is to show the progress strides made by women. Exhibits from all over the United States will be shown, and the Moody Bible Institute will show the work being done by women missionaries in 12 foreign lands, with native converts among those present."

ADMINISTRATION FORCES WIN ON VETO VOTE

Test Comes on Question of Postal Bill

MEASURE IS INTRODUCED

Indications Point to Defeat of Underwood Issue

WASHINGTON — Administration leaders in the senate today blocked an effort to override Pres. Coolidge's veto of the postal pay bill. Sen. Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, was successful in bringing the question to the floor, but thru parliamentary maneuvering, a vote was forestalled.

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — A bill providing for increase in both postal salaries and rates was introduced today by Chairman Sterling of the senate post office committee.

Sen. Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, objected to second reading of the bill and the procedure by which reference was made to a committee would have been carried out immediately was blocked. He said he would explain his action later.

The increase in rates which would be levied on the third and fourth class mail matter, would call for about $20,000,000. It is estimated $12,500,000 additional increases on postal cards and some miscellaneous first class mail; $10,875,000 by increasing second class mail, including newspapers, and $4,161,000 by increases on insurance and collection delivery services.

Sen. Sterling favors open hearings to continue thru the Christmas recess, making possible a report to the floor by the time congress reconvenes after the holidays.

MOVE BLOCKED
Sen. Ashurst moved in the senate that the senate give immediate consideration of President Coolidge's veto of the postal bill. Overruling an objection by Sen. Sterling, Republican, South Dakota, President Pro Tem Cummins declared the motion in order and ordered that the roll be called.

The action blocked an administration move by which it was hoped the veto vote would be held up until action on a measure to increase postal rates was before the senate.

The special senate committee authorized to investigate campaign expenditures called for the light of testimony today on the story of two Chicago men alleging that a million dollar fund had been transferred from Washington to several federal reserve banks in the west for use in the Republican campaign.

J. B. Cochran, president, and other officials of the Franklin National Bank of Washington, and Emmett Dowd, local superintendent of the Postal Telegraph Company, were summoned to the committee subpoena and for its first session of hearings since the election.

The committee sought to trail the facts concerning documents placed in its possession by Samuel Untermyer, New York attorney, who assisted in prosecuting its pre-election inquiry. On testimony of Chairman Butler of the Republican national committee, when the documents were shown him at the committee hearing in Chicago, that he had never seen them before, they were withheld from the record and still remain in that status.

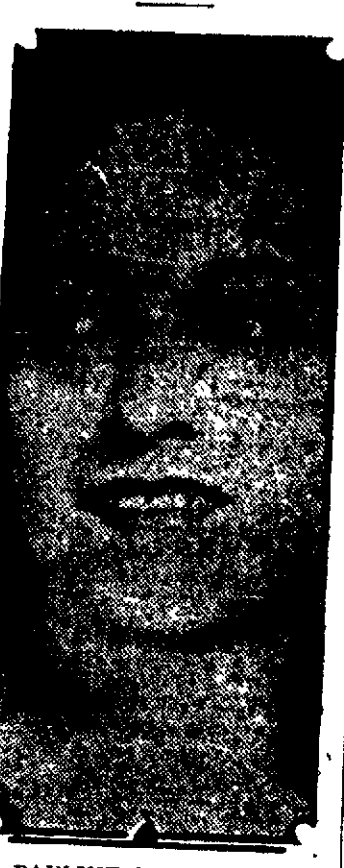

REFERS TO SUB
Chairman Borah of the committee, however, has since described them as two telegrams purporting to have been sent from the Franklin bank to the reserve banks at St. Louis, Kansas City, Minneapolis and San Francisco and referring to sums of $250,000 to be sent to each of those banks for use in behalf of the Republican ticket in the last campaign.

Pressing forward in an attempt to send the vote of the annual supply bills to the senate before the Christmas recess beginning Saturday, the house today had before it the naval appropriation bill, carrying nearly $200,000,000 for naval activities and construction already authorized by law.

Chairman French of the committee, which drafted the measure, hoped to have general debate completed before overnight adjournment, so that reading of the bill with amendments in order can begin Thursday. The bill will be laid aside tomorrow to enable the house to consider miscellaneous legislation.

ACTRESS SEEKS THIRD DIVORCE

Pauline Frederick's Belated
Romance on Rocks

LOS ANGELES — (By Associated Press) — Pauline Frederick, actress of the stage and screen, has filed suit for divorce against her third husband, Dr. Charles Rutherford, formerly of Seattle, the Los Angeles Times said today.

The filed in superior court here Sept. 27, last, the actress' complaint remained unnoticed until yesterday, the Times explained, being recorded as the case of Beatrice Rutherford vs. Charles Rutherford.

The plaintiff alleges her husband deserted her in 1922, less than a year after they were married in Santa Ana, near here. She stated she does not know his present address.

Friends of the couple say Rutherford and Miss Frederick were engaged when he was 26 and she was 17. Then she went on the stage and later married Frank M. Andrews, New York architect. She divorced Andrews and married Willard Mack, playwright. That marriage also wound up in a divorce.

OHIO IN PATH

Cold Snap Scheduled to Hit
Wednesday

COLUMBUS — Ohio will be overspread by an intense cold area within thirty-six hours, United States Weather Forecaster Alexander said here today, bringing snow, high winds and a temperature that may range from near zero to ten degrees above that mark.

The weather in the Ohio valley had moderated somewhat today from the cold area that had covered the district for the last two days, but a decided change to low freezing temperatures will sweep over the state by nightfall tomorrow. The cold wave will hover over Ohio for nearly three days and probably won't be entirely broken up by the week-end, Alexander said.

MADISON, Wis. — (By United Press) — Dances, parties and cake eating do not make a football championship night. Prof. Scott H. Goodnight told a group of University of Wisconsin's sophomores.

"Wisconsin is flying the Big Ten championship flag of fusers," Goodnight declared.

The 200 dance a year and the $100,000 spent on them by Wisconsin students furnish some grounds for the accusation, the professor, who is dean of men and member of the athletic council, argued. He laid the blame for the Badgers' poor football showing during the past two years on the students themselves.

COURT ORDER IN POISON TRIAL AIDS WOMAN

Alleged Admissions of Mrs.
Sweetin Are Withheld

TELLS OF TALK IN JAIL

Scorns Pastor Who Figured in Love Pact

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. — (By Associated Press) — Judge J. C. Kern ruled today that the alleged confession made by Mrs. Elsie Sweetin to officers after a night of questioning could not go to the jury as evidence in her trial with Lawrence M. Hight for the poisoning of her husband, Wilford Sweetin.

Mrs. Sweetin today awaited further opportunity on her denouncement of Lawrence M. Hight, her alleged former lover, which she began from the witness stand yesterday in her joint trial with the former preacher for the poisoning of Sweetin and Mrs. Hight. There was no trace of love in her voice as she called Hight a "madman," denied that she had ever loved him and accused him of frightening her into a confession.

"Hight said," she began, telling the story of their meeting in the Jefferson-co sheriff's office the night of Sept. 23, "I've told them you killed your husband," I insisted that I had not and he said 'never mind, they all believe you did.'"

"Finally he said," she continued, "if you don't say you did it, it will be only a few hours before you are in the hands of a mob." At last I told him I would say it."

Prosecutor Frank G. Thompson's manner in the cross-examination seemed to soothe the witness and her sharp tones were modified, but she would not admit her confession had been made voluntarily.

"The court holds," Judge Kern said, "that when this woman, who the evidence shows had been ill, was questioned almost continuously for twelve hours concerning the charges against her, her constitutional rights were violated. The statement she made at the close of the examination will not be admitted in evidence against her."

The fight to exclude the signed statement of Mrs. Sweetin that she had administered poison which caused the death of her husband was renewed at the opening of court today when Robert E. Smith, her attorney, made a denunciation of Hight. Smith entered his formal objection on the ground that the confession was obtained by duress and persuasion. Nelson Layman, attorney for Hight, joined in the objection.

Arguing in support of his motion, Attorney Smith said Mrs. Sweetin's appearance on the stand yesterday probably was the last that she would make. He called attention to her "lack of sophistication" making her susceptible to the influences which were brought to bear upon her. He emphasized that she maintained her innocence thru several hours of grilling and until after she was exposed to the alleged threats and cajoling of Hight.

Hight flushed during the denunciation and turned his back toward Mrs. Sweetin.

Prosecutor Frank G. Thompson emphasized that consideration was shown in permitting the defendants to confer instead of obtaining confessions from them separately. He said that the only person Mrs. Sweetin blamed for inflicting her situation without precedent in Illinois courts.

SCORES ARE DRIVEN OUT INTO GOLD

Pyromaniac Believed Responsible for Tenement Fire

MAN FALLS TO DEATH

Firemen and Tenants Are Overcome by Smoke

NEW YORK — (By United Press) — Six persons perished when flames of suspicious origin swept thru a Harlem tenement house near the Mt. Sinai hospital.

Survivors of 10 families were driven to the streets in near zero weather. Patients in the hospital, alarmed by the glare of the fire, were quelled by prompt action of nurses and doctors.

Those who escaped from the roaring inferno into which the flames quickly converted the five-story tenement reported that the fire seemed to have started under the front stairs, where a baby carriage was kept.

SCORE IN YEAR
The location of the disastrous blaze is in that part of Harlem known as the "pyromaniac district." A madman, who sets fire to baby carriages, was responsible for loss of a score of lives in the neighborhood a year or so ago.

Only one of the six victims was identified. He was Edward Russell, 64, who was driven from a window by flames and fell to the street to his death.

Three women are among the unidentified victims, the other two being so badly burned it was at first impossible to determine their sex.

Mrs. Esther Goodman who was trapped on the fourth floor with two small children, fought her way thru the smoke and flames to a rear fire escape and lowered a son, seven years old and a daughter, two, to the ground. She was badly burned and was taken to a nearby hospital.

Miss Ida Goldberg, a boarder who was on the fourth floor, fell in the hallway when smoke poured up from the stairs, and is believed to have perished in the ruins. Mrs. Minnie Moschene is another woman who was missing when the occupants were checked over.

FORTY-FOUR ESCAPED
Forty-four occupants escaped from the burning tenement, while two firemen nearly lost their lives effecting rescues in the rear of the building. Added suspicion that the fire originated with a pyromaniac, was led by the rapidity with which the flames first swept thru the front of the tenement.

Edward Russell's death came about in tragic fashion. The old man, who recently had been ill with pneumonia, was found hanging by his hands to a ledge of a window from which flames were shooting. Firemen on a roof above shouted to Russell to hold on and lowered him a rope. Instead of passing it about his body, he attempted to swing by his hands. Weakened by illness and burns, he lost his grip and fell to the street, dead.

James Meschane, keeper of a west side saloon, got his two children safely out from the tenement. His wife turned back for some insurance papers and is feared to be among the victims.

LATENT TALENT DISCOVERED

Spare Time Art Students in Schools Show Ability

CHICAGO — (By Associated Press) — Latent talent in the arts is being brought out of hundreds of men and women in all walks of life here who are devoting their spare time to the study of its various branches. A dealer in rubber shoes is showing proficiency in illustrative work, while the secretary to the president of a large steel mill, his instructor says, easily could make a living with pen and brush.

The director of one of Chicago's largest art academies has made a study of his spare hour students and their vocations to determine if there was not a profound belief there was a profound increase in the arts and if their appeal was not deep and broad. He found that a large majority were in school because of personal interest in special subjects or for general culture.

Some of the students are grandfathers, some are grade school students. Virtually every trade and profession is represented, from bell boys to university professors. Their class work, usually 15-20 hours a week, is carried on without interfering with the students' regular occupation. "Many of these students have taken up art work for the pleasure of doing constructive study, knowing they will profit by it one way or another some day," the director declares. "Old and young, they all take their work very seriously, deriving real pleasure from it and broadening their cultural sense."

CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — With a parting shot in the form of another letter reiterating his demand for an investigation, H. C. Gibson, spokesman for Anti-Dykeman prohibition agents here, left for his home in Westerville, O.

The letter was sent to prohibition commissioner Roy Haynes. It demanded a probe of the activities of Henry A. Dykeman, divisional prohibition chief of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

Haynes had previously refused to entertain charges against Dykeman after Gibson, T. B. Williams of Delaware, O., and Fred Snyder of Springfield, O., had made a special trip to Washington.

Haynes has called the affair a closed incident. The charges grew out of an order transferring the assistants to another district.

Dykeman said he had no comment other than that his report was on file in Washington.

EUROPEANS BUY U. S. HOSE

Export Trade Shows Gain in Past Three Years

ZURICH, Switzerland — (By Associated Press) — The American feminine stocking is the most popular hosiery in many parts of Europe this season because of its full fashioned effect, found usually only in the most expensive wear. Many of the American goods reaching the continent are of artificial silk and sell from 90 cents to $1.50 a pair, the women contending that the American stockings, even at this cheap price, outwear European hosiery by many weeks.

European buyers admit that the American stockings have many distinctive features. They are particularly well finished as to surface, they say, have a soft smoothness that immediately commends itself to the feminine touch, and the colors are suitable and the shadings varied enough to answer the wants of the trade generally. The stockings are cylindrically woven with a little kick running down the back which creates the impression of a seam which is found only in the most costly articles selling for five or six times the amount dealers ask for those now being offered.

German and British manufacturers have been particularly interested in the rapid strides American hosiery has made within the last year in a territory which formerly was all their own.

The American stockings were somewhat tight at first for some European ankles, but this defect has been already overcome, according to the importing agents, and now they may be had in all sizes and forms.

LIQUOR DEALERS OPPOSE BILL

Restrictive Legislation Put Before Irish Dail

DUBLIN — (By Associated Press) — The Free State government has passed thru the Dail a bill to check the abuses of the sale of drink in Ireland. The measure is concerned with restrictions of the hours of opening, and the placing of clubs of all classes in the same position, with regard to hours of sale, as the ordinary drink shops.

While the Temperance party considers the measure too moderate, the licensed trade is much disturbed and has called upon the Senate to delay passing of the bill until a government commission has inquired into the whole matter.

Ministers have indicated the opinion that there are more than twice too many shops for the sale or drink throughout the country, and the trade contends that in abolishing those surplus to requirements the government must compensate the dispossessed.

The trade also demands a reduction of the license duty proportionate to the restriction in the hours of sale, and binds its members to withhold all support, financial and electoral, from any candidate for the Dail who will not pledge himself to sustain its demands.

New Treatment For Inflamed Tonsils

Why bother with slow acting remedies that may and may not help those tender inflamed tonsils when two or three gargles with Kojene before you go to bed at night will reduce the inflammation, destroy any and every germ and cause the soreness to go before morning.

If by any mishap Kojene doesn't do the trick, Green's Public Drug Store, Hunter's Drug Store or any progressive druggist anywhere will gladly return the 60 cents you pay for a six ounce bottle.

Read the directions for sore throat and tonsillitis as Kojene, the world's most powerful antiseptic, should be diluted to obtain quick results. Kojene is non-poisonous—you can drink it if you want to.

YACHT EXPERTS SEEK METHOD

Would Have Uniform System for Measuring Craft

AMERICA REPRESENTED

Committee Named to Formulate Rules

LONDON — (By Associated Press)—The continuation of the existing international rule of yacht measurement was considered recently by a conference of the International Yacht Union, presided over by J. W. Burton, vice president of the Yacht Racing association, who said there was a universal wish to evolve a rule that resulted in a whole-some boat without unnecessary underbody. He was delighted to see an American representative present to give first hand information about their universal rule.

Prof. Poor, of New York, said he considered the American rule superior to that of the union, as, in his opinion, it produced a better all-around boat and not one built to one particular strength of weather only.

Johan Anker, Norwegian designer, said he thought it was generally agreed that the international rule for yachts up to 12 meters had so far been satisfactory and proposed that it be continued. This proposal was carried.

Capt. von Hudenstam, Sweden, proposed a committee of delegates, one from Great Britain and one from Sweden, to be appointed by the conference to confer with Prof. Poor for the discussion of both rules, and to deal with the question at their will. This was agreed to.

CREW LIMIT

Other propositions which were carried included a proposal that the measurement rules extend for periods of three years from Dec. 1, 1925, a denunciation of validity to be made at least three years before the end of such period; the bow and stern tax for old yachts under clause XX should cease to operate for six and 12 meter boats on Dec. 31, 1925; eight meter yachts be allowed to carry three paid hands instead of two and that national authority have power to reduce the number to two as originally, if they desire, the number of persons allowed on a six meter boat be limited to five, and that the word "ladies" be omitted from the present rule.

$1,200 DAMAGES ASKED

Salesman Alleges Serious Injuries in Accident

Bain of $1,200 for injuries is demanded in a suit filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Malcolm MacLean, a salesman. He alleges he was caught between a moving automobile and a garage door.

William Buck, of Woodco, defendant, is charged with running into the plaintiff at the entrance of L. F. Munch's garage, in N. Union-st., Dec. 4, 1923.

MacLean was caught between the door and the radiator of the car with disastrous results to his internal organs. He was pressed so hard that the door behind him gave way, saving him from worse injuries, he believes.

His chest was crushed and it was several months before he could draw a full breath in comfort. Besides the $1,200 compensation, MacLean is asking $65 additional for medical expenses.

AUTO AND BICYCLE ARE STOLEN, POLICE HEAR

An automobile owned by Howard Friedman, 135 N. Main-st., and a bicycle, property of Raymond Sander, 1075 S. Main-st., was the toll of petty thieves Monday night.

Friedman's Overland sedan was stolen from the public square between 7 and 11 p. m., and the same bicycle was taken from the 500 block on E. Springs-st.

DIPHTHERIA CASES ARE WATCHED IN PUTNAM-CO

COLUMBUS GROVE — With the breaking out of a case of diphtheria in the Kiesel family, Dr. Louis Platt, of Ottawa, health commissioner of Putnam-co., on Monday took every means to stamp out spread of the disease. One death from the disease occurred ten days ago and a member of that family is under observation.

Two pupils who are known as positive carriers of the disease were removed from the schools and isolated. This development followed a culture of throats of pupils in a week ago.

ABE MARTIN On The Cost of Prominence

UNCLE NATE PURVIANCE, ONCE PROMINENT

We would know a fellow that had 'em back, an' then they'll have 'em do somethin' real big 't put 'em back where they wuz. Mrs. Thford Mouts went 't the postoffice one day in a dress 'n' jacket, an' th' smart set jest dropped her till she had 't throw a $180 luncheon. Tell Binkley used 't be considered quite a com'er, an' wuz goin' big till he left his spoon in his cup at a reception one afternoon, an' he's never received an invitation 't anything else 't this day. He has $85 tied up in a dinner suit. Whether we're prominent socially, or politically, or intellectually, or professionally, we're watched an' discussed, an' bothered an' solicited. Uncle Nate Purviance wuz referred to in a newspaper once as a prominent an' well-to-do farmer, an' it cost him his farm before he got thru with it. Mort Bentley an' his wife used 't be prominent in Iowa, but they got so tired changin' their clothes, an' smilin' an' smurkin', that when they got down 't only two maids they borrowed some money an' moved 't Indanny, where they've lived happily an' unnoticed ever since. Mr. and Mrs. Lufe Bud are both purty prominent, an' entertain nicely when they're livin' 'tgether, but th' money her mother left her won't last always. How Artie Small manages 't make enough money out of his drug store 't carry on socially th' way he does is a mystery. But we guess he has a great hot dog trade. His wife smokes an' drinks socially, but she prefers her home. Al Bentley, a comparative new comer, that bought th' shootin' gallery next 't th' Aeme garage, is bein' invited out a whole lot this season, but th' exclusive residential district is so far from his place 't business that he hates 't move out there.

PLANES ATTACK IN MID-AIR

Daring Feat is Accomplished by Army Fliers

BELLEVILLE, Ill.—(By Associated Press)—While both speeded 1,500 feet in the air, a Sperry messenger plane hooked itself to an army dirigible, remained attached 10 minutes and freed itself to sail away again in a feat accomplished for the first time yesterday at Scott field here.

A metal hook attached to a frame over the motor of the plane was used by Lieut. Finter of McCook field, Dayton, O., pilot of the Sperry, to catch onto a small trapeze swinging from cables slung under the bombing rails of the ship, the TC-3, in charge of Lieut. Frank McKee.

The craft were flying at approximately the same speed, about 53 miles an hour, when the attachment maneuver was completed. The plane motor was stopped and started 10 minutes later, when Lieut. Finter released his craft by operating a hand lever.

According to Lieut. Col. John A. Paegelow, commandant, there was danger that the plane in hooking on might pull down the lighter-than-air craft, and that the plane might not be able to resume flight after cutting loose.

A previous experiment in Dayton had released a plane hooked to a dirigible as it went aloft.

PRISON AFFAIRS IN GLARE

Daugherty Appointee at Atlanta is Let Out

ATLANTA, Ga.—(By United Press)—A special grand jury met here today to investigate sensational charges of corruption against officials and employees of Atlanta federal penitentiary.

The investigation was ordered by Attorney General Stone at Washington almost simultaneously with the removal of A. E. Sartain, warden.

Sartain was displaced by T. B. White, a special representative of the department of justice, after an extended investigation of conditions at the federal prison. Other officials and employees of the penitentiary are also involved in the investigation and a general shake-up was reported imminent.

Sartain today charged he had been the victim of a frame-up and that his removal was "solely for the purpose of paying off old scores on the part of certain individuals."

He was the appointee of former Attorney General Daugherty, coming here from Washington Court House, O., home town of Jesse Smith, Daugherty's candidate, who figured prominently in the Senate investigation of the department of justice.

SNOW WORMS DISCOVERED

SEATTLE, Wash.—(By Associated Press)—Snow worms have been found in the Cascade mountains of Washington and on the glaciers and mountains of Alaska, Trevor Kincaid, professor of zoology in the University of Washington, declared today after an investigation.

"The snow or ice worm is not really pink as many assert, but is more of a brownish hue," said Prof. Kincaid. The brown pigment in its skin is a source of heat which enables the worm to bore its way through glacier ice like a heated wire. It grows to a length of about an inch, feeding on debris in the ice.

HALF-VACATION DECLARED

Christmas Postoffice Schedule is Announced

Registry, stamp, money order and general delivery windows at the postoffice will be open from 8 to 11 a. m. on Christmas day. It was announced Tuesday by Postmaster A. E. Gale.

There will be no deliveries on that day, either city or rural, so that carriers will enjoy the whole day free.

All work in the office will be discontinued at 11 a. m., with the exception of that which is absolutely necessary for the dispatching of outgoing first class mail and newspapers, and the receiving of incoming mail.

All holiday matters are again urged by Postmaster Gale and Superintendent of Mails Winemiller, to get their parcels in the office immediately, and avoid the flood of parcel post and letters which is seen in every postoffice several days before Christmas.

Sheriff Harvey B. Crosson left for Columbus Tuesday to attend an annual meeting of the Ohio sheriffs' association.

MORS TELLS OF LOVE TANGLE

Husband of Slain Woman Testifies Against McCoy

LOS ANGELES—(By Associated Press)—The prosecution expected to complete its case against Norman Selby, the former kid McCoy of the prize ring, today with the testimony of Albert A. Mors, divorced husband of Mrs. Theresa Mors, who McCoy is accused of having slain in a murderous rage. Mors was ready to describe how McCoy contributed to the domestic difficulties which culminated in his divorce from Mrs. Mors and to offer evidence explaining why McCoy would brook no attempt to reconciliation between the couple.

In the reign of terror McCoy spread in Mrs. Mors' antique shop Aug. 13, last, the morning after she had been shot to death in a nearby apartment she has occupied with the former pugilist, the defense hoped to find extenuating circumstances which would save him from the death sentence. It was indicated yesterday after testimony of two witnesses called by the prosecution, McCoy, drunk and disheveled, walked into the place and launched a hold-up and shooting affray that resulted in the wounding of two men and a woman.

PREBLE-CO MAN LEADS IN RACE FOR SPEAKER

COLUMBUS—With the time for the caucus of Republican members of the state house of representatives only 24 hours away, indication were believed to be apparent today of efforts to create alignments whereby Rep. Harry D. Silver of Preble-co. would be selected as speaker and Robert L. Rohe of Tiffin, floor leader. Both are candidates for the speakership in addition to Allen C. McDonald of Dayton, Gilbert Morgan of Cleveland and J. H. T. Gordon of Logan-co.

Reports were current that Ku Klux Klan leaders who claim approximately 40 members are friendly to their cause, are willing to support Silver, providing the Preble-co. representative will throw his support to Rohe.

NEEDLE EYE HOLDS LETTER

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press)—A 44 word letter reposing in the eye of a needle has been received at the Smithsonian Institution. The microscopic inktrace which was sent to the institution for display before the annual meeting of the board of regents, is so small it has to be magnified 88 times before it can be read. It measures exactly one-11,250th of a square inch.

The text of the letter follows: "This is a crude, hurriedly prepared, large sample of microengraving. I trust it will contain a moment of interest to the regents, and regret that time prevents preparing an exhibition more worthy of their inspection. Believe me to be, yours cordially, Alfred McKwen."

AUTO INSURANCE RATES BASED ON ACCIDENTS

WASHINGTON — (By United Press)—Automobile insurance rates are being fixed for 1925 on a basis of 30,000 deaths in about one million motor accidents, it developed at the conference on street and highway safety here today. But according to Prof. S. H. Huebner, of the University of Pennsylvania, chairman of the insurance committee, American motorists can cut their insurance rates in succeeding years by reducing the annual number of automobile accidents.

If the present conference is successful in promoting caution and reducing accidents, insurance companies will guide themselves accordingly, Huebner said. Insurance companies will be asked by the conference to undertake a comprehensive campaign to promote observance of ordinary rules of caution.

RUSSIAN EXILES FATALISTS

More Than 5,000 Refugees
Without Country

CONFERENCES ARE HELD

Interior Revolution Expected to Solve Problems

PARIS — (By Associated Press) — More than 500,000 Russians in France have ceased to be refugees and become exiles, without a recognized country and without a protector according to M. Maklakoff, the Russian Bolshevik leader, who explains that his condition is one of the principal consequences of the recognition of the Soviet government at Moscow by France. Maklakoff added that the action of the French government will make more uncertain the perspective of a political change in Russia. He is confident, however, that unless the Bolsheviks change their policies radically, they will ultimately succumb through a counter-revolution.

"The world is abandoning us by degrees," is how Madame Maklakoff put it. "We have no longer any other protector than God. His wisdom, in making our trial long and weary one, but He will see that justice is done in the end."

These expressions from the Maklakoffs give a fair idea of the line in which the anti-Bolshevik Russians take the new situation. There are three proposals for the immediate solution of the Russian refugee problem. The first is repatriation, but only a small minority are supposed to have enough courage to go back to their country. The second is French naturalization; it is sought in the Russian colony that comprises 100,000 Russians now in France, and will take advantage of the situation of the government to come French citizens. As to a great majority who are not ready to espouse Bolshevism, it is proposed that the countries where they reside be requested to issue passports to them which all European governments will be asked to accept. Two countries, however, France and Italy, have already announced that on account of their standstill with the Soviets they can recognize no passports to persons other than those issued by the Moscow government.

Conferences have been going on in Paris between refugees and the French authorities with reference to a solution of the problem, but the Russians remain at the same skeptical and fatalist. They have little faith in anything that tried outside of Russia, yet are absolutely confident that the interior revolution will sooner or later solve the Russian problem and make it possible for those who open to be still living to return to their fatherland.

The B. & O. is to pay for additional lights at Main and Fourth-sts., O'Connor-av., Fland-ers-av. and two lights at the Elm-st. bridge.

CITY STUDYING LAW CHANGES

Electrical Code May Include
Permit Issuance

Consideration for one week of amendments to the electrical ordinance was taken Monday night at commission meeting upon changes advocated by Manager Bingham upon request of city electricians. Bingham's efforts to discriminate between first, second and third class electricians was opposed by Commissioner Harold Cunningham who claimed such procedure would open the way for many men who are not expert electricians, but who could pass third or second class examination.

Manager Bingham advocated a $25 license for first class electricians; $20 for second class; $15 for third class and a fee of $1 for journeymen and 50 cents for apprentices, each having city permits.

VOICE TRAINING CODE UPSET

Spirometer Reveals Defects
With Accuracy

SAVINGS OF MILLIONS

Specially Designed Gas Mask
Weeds Out Bad Singers

BY GENE COHN

NEW YORK — (Special)—If your neighbors don't like your singing, run to the nearest spirometer or oscillograph.

They may be right. Perhaps you CAN'T sing!

But, thanks to scientific experiments under way at New York University, it is becoming almost as easy to test good and bad voices as to test good and bad eyesight.

Just what is the matter with a given voice and what can be done about it, is being determined with scientific accuracy by means of a series of intricate mechanisms from the General Electric experimental laboratory.

Tests which already threaten to revolutionize the field of vocal training and to upset well-established theories are being made by Prof. H. B. Sheldon and Douglas Stanley, M. S., prominent voice expert and physicist.

It is estimated that millions are spent annually by persons who believe they can become fine, or even great, singers.

"Heretofore, testing a voice has been largely a matter of guesswork, even to the trained musician and teacher," explains Prof. Stanley. "But the physicist's laboratory is an impersonal place and a scientific mechanism has neither opinion nor prejudice. It can register only what it finds. The question of the existence of a voice becomes, then, a matter of exact statistics and we can diagnose just as a doctor can with X-ray."

"Within a few moments of the time a singer has been tested, he or she can see photographs of the voice, and from these can be deduced the whole story. Literally speaking, we are photographing the human voice."

"And what we are discovering is revolutionary. Probably the most sensational conclusion is that the world is all wrong on the theory that the basis of vocal development lies in the control of breathing. The breathing idea has gained almost universal usage and practically every school of voice employs it. From laboratory studies it now appears that the development of muscles of the vocal cord are all important."

"The tests show that a well-trained voice does not rely upon a great breath output for production of a loud tone. Quite the opposite was the case. And so it would seem time-honored theories will have to be discarded."

Thus false tones in a man's voice were not to be considered and the so-called chest voice of a woman was used for only a few lower notes. The experiments indicate that now we will have to start with the falsetto and build down or begin with a chest voice and build up.

"Just as an athlete develops his chest and arm muscles, the singer will develop the vocal cord muscles. When developed the two tones registers of the voice will be co-ordinated."

TEST METHOD
"It is easy to understand how paradoxical theories originated. Those who dealt with the subject were not scientists. They founded their ideas on sensations felt in singing. Sensation is no test."

"What is happening in the throat and larynx during singing must be deduced and not guessed at. The only worthwhile data is that to be obtained thru following known laws of physics and making fool-proof tests."

The way the voice tester works is this: the singer dons a gas mask with a telephone transmitter fitted into one eye-piece. It is connected to a long rubber tube and this tube connects with a water-filled tank on which rests a light bulb called a spirometer. An air-tight box called a sphygmometer all outside the person, from the tube into the spirometer and an accurate measure of the person's breath expulsion can be made by the rising of the box in the water.

At the same time the sound made by the voice in singing is carried by the phone transmitter thru an amplifier to an oscillograph which records on a moving photographic film the exact intensity and form of the sound waves.

The records are secured: first, a curve showing the breath emitted; second, a photographic record from which can be read the loudness, and something of the quality of the tone.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(By Associated Press)—Sam Smith, 15-year-old negro, was taken from the City hospital here last night and lynched at Nolensville, Tenn., 12 miles from here, where he shot a grocer, Eastwood, a grocer, Friday night.

The mob, in 20 automobiles, sent seven or eight of their number into the hospital to obtain the lad and rushed away before officers could intercept them.

The boy was hanged and his body riddled with bullets. Nude, the body was left to hang until officers cut it down this morning.

The boy and his uncle, Jim Smith, were surprised by Eastwood as the sought to steal parts from Eastwood's automobile. Jim Smith was captured by Eastwood, but Sam shot the grocer and was fleeing when Eastwood shot him.

It was thought at first that Eastwood had been wounded fatally, but he is recovering. The lynching was the second here since the Civil war. The other was in 1894.

HERDS OF DEER ARE AGED

Some Animals Date Ancestors
Back 400 Years

LONDON.—(By Associated Press)—Family history and family trees are by no means confined to the English aristocracy; there are several herds of deer in Great Britain whose records go back more than 400 years.

The 1924 register of the Deer Herd Book Society of Great Britain, the social register of the animals, just published, gives a complete list of the ages and distinguishing marks of the herds.

The Lord at Dean Park, Peterborough, which went into residence there more than 400 years ago, is the founder in the unbroken line of English herds. Among other deer ranking above the proboscis is the 300-year-old herd of Lord Clifford, which has not mixed with other blood since 1642, and the herd of Lord Colville, which has maintained its blood since 1752.

St. Robert Harvey of Langley Park owns a herd of mixed deer which have been bred there since Queen Elizabeth used the park as a royal hunting ground. A thirteenth century mixed herd is owned by Lord Hastings, and the Dukes of Northumberland maintain a herd on their estates in Northumbria for about 700 years.

Also that there are about 140 partly owned herds in Great Britain, including three belonging to King George, but which do not rank with their royal master in the matter of pedigree. One of the largest estates of the Midlands own as many as 100 deer are kept.

VIENNA.—This city with an approximate population of 2,000,000 has only 3,500 private automobiles, according to figures compiled recently by the authorities, or about 1,200 less than last year. The reduction is attributed to the economic crisis which has reached virtually all branches of business, professions and walks of life.

The theatres and cafes have also been hard hit. Many Vienna restaurant proprietors have threatened to close their establishments on the ground that they are being over-taxed by the municipality.

BRESLAU—The manufacture of beer glasses has helped to keep the German glass industry on its feet during the last few months when there has been a let-down in numerous other industries owing to the lack of ready cash for operating expenses. Manufacturers, however, believe that after some of the pending trade treaties with other countries have been agreed to, the export business will gradually improve.

INAUGURAL BALL VANISHING

Pres. Coolidge Opposed To Attending Affair

SUBJECTS TO EXPENSE

Event To Be Held Without Official Status

WASHINGTON — (Special)— President Coolidge sticks to his decision of today, there will be no presidential inaugural ball in Washington next March.

He has been reasoned with up and down hill, all to no purpose. In fact, the more he was reasoned with, the surer he was he wouldn't attend. If the affair could have been held without an inaugural ball, he might have been an inaugural ball.

The proposition originally was put to him by a committee of prominent society folk who thought maybe he could be induced to grace the affair at least for a little while.

The committee members expected to him all about the event. It was going to be, so long it has been since Washington has had a function of the kind and how delighted all the diplomats and higher army and navy officers would be and how much officialdom would enjoy it. The blowout could be a regular presidential inaugural affair this year.

He said: "I don't want to go."

Well, yes, they told him, at a presidential inaugural ball, they ought to be indispensable to have a president on hand.

"No," he said. "I don't want to go."

There'll be a ball. It will be held in the big new Mayflower hotel, and a lot of the elite will be there, but not a particle of official status will it have.

President Harding vetoed an inaugural ball on the same grounds as President Coolidge— he didn't want to spend government money on it at a time when the country ought to be saving all the money it could.

He put his foot down less firmly, however, and probably with a will. He liked social gatherings and doubtless would have enjoyed the function if he had not considered it diplomatic or good titles just then.

There was no official ball at President Wilson's second inauguration because of the war. The United States hadn't entered yet, but it was deemed unstable with the great conflict going on in Europe and the United States, as many already believed, to be dragged in.

Was there a ball at the Wilson inauguration, either, it time the president said it didn't accord with his idea of personal simplicity. Many speculated that really it was because he didn't like to dance.

At the last regular presidential inaugural ball was in the time of President Taft.

PENSIONS BUILDING

In these days such affairs were in the big rounds of the Pension Building. The thing was to get the formalities of the great ball—President Hayes, ever, very quietly and with no pretensions, for he was of the persuasion even then.

By far the people can remember it back at the Lincoln inauguration. Those were troubled times in Washington and society in eclipse.

It is of record, however, that Lincoln had a ball at the beginning of each of his terms, but there may have been a

Anyone who has coughed all day and all night, will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs and throat troubles.

It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

BAKU, A. J. (By Associated Press)—Of the 100,000,000 population of the Russian Empire, 10,000,000 live in the Caspian and Black Sea areas. MUCH ENGLISH IN PARIS

Americans Seek to Avoid Hearing Own Tongue

PARIS — (By Associated Press)—The sign "English Spoken" is no longer necessary, or even advisable, on a store window in Paris. American and English customers have become so plentiful that every first-class establishment pretends to have someone about who speaks a more or less vague version of the language.

Americans in particular run into their mother tongue so often that they try, now and then, to find one of those essentially French places, especially in the restaurant line, where there are no foreigners. They seldom succeed. When a new maître d' hotel is engaged today in a restaurant, the first question is "Can you speak English?" If he can, he is a chance at the job, otherwise not.

Which the person who thinks he has found a nice little French place where there are no Americans, enters, he rarely fails to be greeted and addressed in English, and he is a much longer time to get a drink or a plate of food than he would in a place where the language is not so common.

They believe the American to be a good spender, and they count on the fact that the price of a drink or a plate of food is not so high as in the States.

LOS ANGELES—The collection of fossilized bones at the Los Angeles museum belonging to sun-dry animals that lived more than 10,000 years ago was augmented recently by the lower jaw and a gigantic molar of a Columbian elephant a type of prehistoric creature of which fragments, specimens have been found only once before in southern California.

The specimens were unearthed at a depth of 40 feet in a gravel pit. The face of the molar which is nearly eight inches long is covered with thick plates of enamel which had broken off has a length of 18 inches. Both tooth and jaw bones are perfect. The original owner lived in the Pleistocene period in the opinion of Dr. W. A. Davis, director of the museum.

SHIP BUILDING ON SLUMP

Annual Tonnage Hits Lowest Mark in 15 Years

LONDON — (By Associated Press)—Lloyd's Register of Shipping, for the third year in succession, has reported a persistent depression in the ship building industry.

Based on its reports on the year ended June 30, the society declares that the tonnage of new vessels classed by it constituted the lowest recorded during the last 15 years with the exception of the second year of the war, and was 55 per cent of the total for 1922-23; 35 per cent of that for 1921-22, and 27 per cent of 1920-21.

A total of 454 vessels of 600,755 tons gross was lost, and some 500 vessels of 1,200,000 tons were dismantled or broken up during the year. Notwithstanding this removal of more than 1,750,000 tons of shipping, the mercantile fleet of the world is even now greater than it was in 1914, but on the other hand there is a large proportion of laid-up tonnage which will probably not be again successful in seeking employment.

Any serious revival in overseas traffic will probably lead to further elimination of uneconomical tonnage, some of which is still in service. Ship owners appear to be fully alive, the report says, to the necessity of providing themselves with up-to-date fleets, and during the year plans for 489 vessels of 1,308,845 tons were passed by the society. These figures, it is pointed out, are appreciably in excess of those for 1922-23, but they are again far below the average for several years previous to the war.

What Makes Up Your Gas Plant?

DID you ever stop to think what goes to make up your gas plant? Did you ever consider the underground property that few men have seen in years, that was buried that you may enjoy the luxury of cooking and heating with gas?

This is one of the features of gas property that few persons have in mind when they consider such a property as that in Lima, one of the most efficient today in Ohio.

Years ago a network of pipes of all sizes was started to supply natural gas. This network was added to as the city of Lima grew until today there are hundreds of miles of transmission and distribution lines lying beneath Lima streets, representing a fortune even in these days of large fortunes.

Every time a new sub-division is opened up and people begin to build new houses in it, gas must be delivered to them, for that is a part of the policy of this company. When you buy a lot and plan a new home in the outlying districts, as is the custom now, for Lima is growing by leaps and bounds, you give little consideration to the matter of gas. YOU KNOW THE POLICY OF THE COMPANY FOR SERVICE AND YOU KNOW YOU WILL HAVE GAS.

During the last few years it has been a problem for your gas company to keep abreast of the times. Money for extensions in order that new home owners may have the same facilities as their neighbors in what might be termed the downtown section, must be supplied from invested capital.

The money paid by consumers for their gas cannot go toward this work. Men who have faith in Lima and its future must supply the money for all plant building and extensions. Customers' money paid for gas can be applied only to running expenses and paying a return on invested capital, and everyone will admit that one who invests is entitled to a fair return on his investment.

It has cost a quarter of a million dollars during the last year to put your gas manufacturing plant in readiness to meet your demands. This is in addition to the great investment already made here in your gas company property.

New rates which will become effective January 1, 1925, will pay those who have made possible for you this convenience only four and ninety-six one hundredths per cent on their investment, less than you receive on your savings in the building and loan.

Tomorrow we shall give you more information concerning the business of your gas company. You will be interested.

NEWS WANT ADS MAKE EASY SALES!

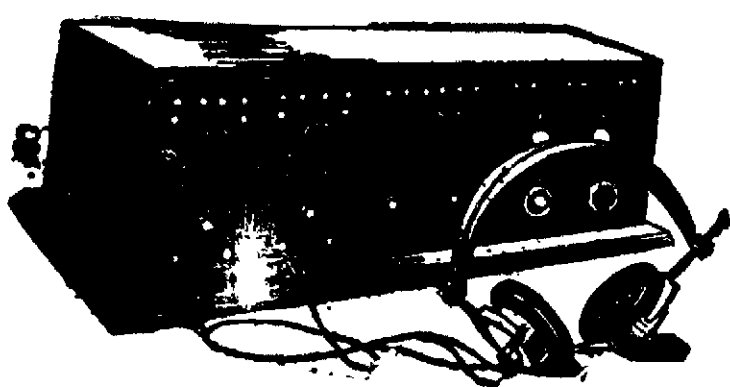

FROM the time your Lima News Want Ad is written in long-hand and handed to a clerk over the counter at The News Want Ad Store, or read to a Lima News Adtaker over the phone, till the time it finally appears in the paper it goes through many hands and processes.

First it is carefully checked for accuracy, then it is censored and sorted into "takes" for the typesetters. Next a speedy linotype operator sets it in type, then it is proofread, corrected and classified so that it may be easily found by the reader. After that it is locked up in page forms and a matrix made.

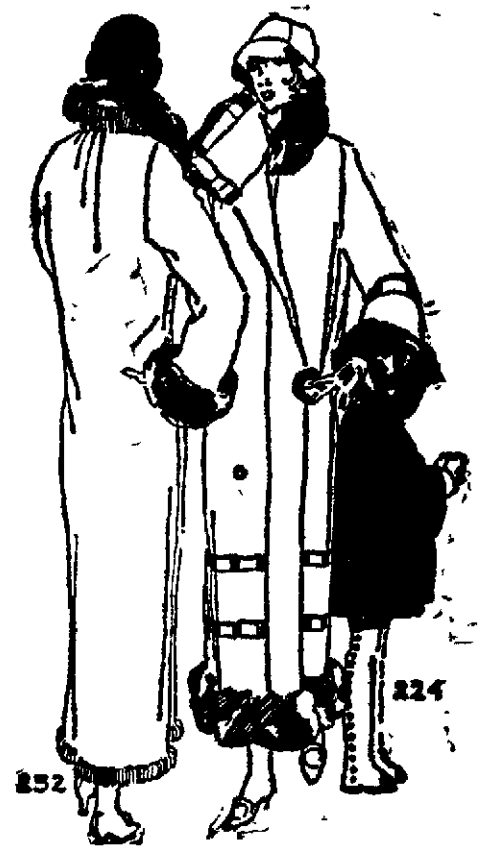

Then a cylindrical stereotype casting is made and locked on the presses. Then the Want Ad Section is printed and inserted as an integral part of the completed newspaper. The complete paper is loaded on trucks and distributed to the outlying districts where carriers deliver it to your front door. Other trucks take Lima News to the fast mail trains whence they are delivered to the most intelligent and enterprising people throughout Northwestern Ohio.

This highly detailed process is repeated for each paper every 24 hours. Between Friday morning and Saturday afternoon an average of 500 additional Want Ads are put through the same process, to be printed in the Sunday papers. Only the perfection of The Lima News mechanical processes and the efficiency of its service make possible such an enormous distribution of your message at a cost so low.

There is only one thing to keep in mind. Remember, in writing your Want Ad, to give enough of the details of your offer to enable the reader to know if yours is the offer for which he is looking. Send for The Lima News free booklet, "Suggestions for Writing a Classified Ad."

THE LIMA NEWS
Want Ad Section can find your prospects for anything salable, if you will but use a Want Ad worded adequately to its task of stimulating the reader to action. If you have a house, a vacant lot or a car for sale, your first step towards a sale is to find prospects, and there are financially-able prospects a-plenty in The Lima News great circulation. Merely call Main 4921 and ask for an Ad-taker. If you are a telephone subscriber, we will charge your Ad, and bill you later.

CANCER CURE IS CLAIMED
Doctor's Salve Removes Malignant Growth
CLINICS OPENED
Prominent Doctor Discovers Treatment by Accident

BY ROY J. GIBSON
 CHICAGO—(Special)—Thirty years ago a horse doctor of Taylorville, Ill., was offered $1000 if he could cure a cancer on a circus pony's eye.

Undertaking the job, he treated the eye with a yellowish salve, successfully removing the malignant growth.
 Subsequently the veterinary, whose name was Hoxie, began to treat the preparation on men and women cancer sufferers.
 At least this is the story back of a cancer cure Dr. Bruce Miller, medical director of the National Cancer Research Institute, has brought to the attention of medical authorities.

Dr. Miller says he obtained the formula several years ago from a man whose son, a Taylorville coal miner, to whom the father had handed it down just prior to his death.
 The preparation is being used in clinics at West End hospital, under direction of prominent surgeons.

Introduction of the treatment in Chicago has brought down on the heads of Dr. Miller and his associates the condemnation of the American Medical Association, which brands it just a variation of the old time arsenical esoteric of a century ago. An arsenic is a caustic agent used to burn away unhealthy tissues.

Dr. Miller, of course, denies this. He points to an authentic-looking book of cases that have been cured with his cancer-killing preparation supporting Dr. Miller's claims. A little coterie of doctors who believe in Dr. Miller's cure is both medical and sane, and far more than a mere "snake oil" cure.

One of them, Dr. Thomas P. Am, a physician of long practice in Chicago, was himself formerly a sufferer from a cancer of the left leg. He declares he cured by the mystic salve last summer after medical colleagues proposed to amputate his leg as a last resort.

Dr. Miller has attended some other cancer patients, including a police sergeant, Thomas Quinn, who admits that he was told death's door and had been told by reputable surgeons that nothing could be done for him.

Search for the heir of Steve Cohare, alias Steve Kuhard, 55, Italian track laborer who died under strange circumstances in 822 1-1/2 S. Main-st early Monday has been started by Dr. A. V. Sibert, acting coroner, who was appointed to administer the estate in probate court Tuesday.

Cohare, who is also known by three other names besides the ones given in court, is said to have a son living in the Italian quarter of Youngstown.
 Name of the son is unknown to any one in Lima and he may be hard to find.
 Value of the estate, according to the administrator, is $1,692.49, and comprises cash in deposit in a bank at Harrod.
 Cohare was employed by the Erie R. R. as a trackman, and has worked up and down the local division for many years.
 David Baker, a fellow laborer who passed part of the night asleep beside the dead body, has been released by police, who held him on suspicion in connection with the death.
 Pneumonia may be the cause of death, physicians say.

STREET REPAIR COMPLETED
 All City Thoroughfares Are in Good Condition

The city without a hole in a paved street sufficiently large enough to put in a hat.

This is the boast for Lima made at the city hall by officials at the expiration of a banner year spent in the repair of improved streets.

During the past 12 months over 50 miles of streets have been improved by ten gangs of workmen working eight hours daily at a monthly cost of $3,500 to the city.

Forty-two thousand dollars were expended by the city to complete the improvements, the money derived from the automobile license fund being used.

With the $300,000 spent in placing new paved streets and the repair work completed, Lima boasts the best streets in the state and looks forward to the time when every street in the city will be paved.

Several petitions for paved streets on file at city hall are being held for next year's programs, according to officials who believe in "paving wherever the work is asked."

In the repair work of the past year the city did not touch any streets listed as county property. In the contest of citizens to discover a "hole as large as a hat" a number of persons reported holes on North-st, a street under county maintenance, but no reports were made on streets under city supervision.

CORRIGAN
by EDWIN SNELL
Author of "The Great American Novel"

PROTECTING PAMELA

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Cornigan, proprietor of the Orange-Corran, has put up a new bun which attracts the eyes of all who pass by. Verkerer, sister of Jack Verkerer, Miss Vereker tells Pamela that Arundill is not playing possum with his employers, and that she is constantly annoying her with her constant nagging. Pamela also believes that she believes Arundill is plotting the death of her brother because he knows too much about the affair. Pamela says that two shots fired in the air are a sign that she is in danger. Verkerer is called on to protect Pamela and asks Fellows to protect Pamela.

YOU GO ON WITH THE STORY

Fellows' heart leaped within him and it was only with an effort that he succeeded in remaining outwardly calm.

"You'd like her to trot round with me whenever she feels inclined," he flushed suddenly beneath the color of his cheeks. "Did your sister suggest this?"

Verkerer surveyed the back of his hand.

"I don't remember. We were talking things over last night and believe the idea was my own."

"She offered no objection?"

"On the contrary. Look here, fellows, I don't think I quite follow you. What in the name of goodness are driving at?"

Cornigan's second in command looked very well up in those matters; it has never occurred to him that a woman like Miss Vereker would want to hang around such a fellow for a week or ten days on end. As far as he is concerned there's nothing I'd like better than to see her go.

Verkerer thrust his hands into his pockets.

"I wish you meant that," he said. The taller man gasped.

"You said there was nothing like that better."

"I wish from the bottom of my heart I could believe you. It'd give me mind tremendously. You think I don't know," he continued fiercely. "What Arundill's game is with regard to us, I don't think I don't realize. That an ass I was to show my head. Every time he's sent me these foolish remarks I've suffered again and again. I'm sure Arundill wants Pamela—d'you like to know I was at the bottom of the sea. I've been fished twice lately. If anything could happen to me—"

The other caught his hand.

"You can count on me—absolutely and unconditionally. You depend on me, don't you?"

Verkerer returned his grip firmly.

"Thanks," he muttered hoarsely. "Your a heck, fellows. Er what are you drinking?"

Out of the corner of his eye Verkerer caught the slim form of Pamela standing in the doorway. What are you two conspiring? she inquired gaily, coming toward them.

"Fellows was just saying that whiskey at sundown."

"How disgustingly unromantic! I wouldn't have to wait very long for I saw the boy polishing glasses a couple of minutes ago."

It was when Pamela was offing with the soda that Fellows' head came very close to hers.

"You look thoughtful, Mr. Fellows," she said.

"I was wondering," he replied, "whether you'd ever get tired of being so friendly with the enemy!"

Fellows has been good enough to suggest you should

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

You see, little Marquise, that Jack has not only laid my love in the dust but he has battered my pride into a poor bruised thing. By his conduct he has told all my friends that he does not consider me or my feelings worth worrying about. I am ashamed to meet my mother or Karl. I am ashamed to look them in the face. It humiliates me to such a degree to know that they are thinking that Jack, my husband, does not care enough for me to sorrow with me that I stay away from them as much as possible. I cannot bear it. At this moment I never want to look upon John's face again. When I saw him at the funeral my heart was so filled with hate for him that I hardly had room for grief over my sister Alice.

I think I am being vicariously punished for what John did to Paula Perier. I think at this moment I am feeling almost in the same degree the humiliation that she has felt. He broke her heart. He is breaking mine and the worst part of it all is, he does not seem to be conscious of what he is doing.

John has made me out a poor thing. Something to throw aside just as he did that other poor woman, something not worthy of his care, not deserving of his comforting. My one desire now is to get away. I want to go somewhere where I will not see anyone who can possibly know in what light esteem my husband holds me.

I presume that all my friends now are looking upon me with curiosity. They think that possibly I, too, am going mad. When Jack got here by airplane, probably because Sydney Carton insisted he should come in time for the funeral, I would not see him. I sent word to Sydney that I would not ride in the same motor with him, and so he escorted my mother and Karl took me to the grave.

I expect, to those about who did not know what Jack had done to me, this arrangement looked queer, but I could no more have put my hand on John Prescott's arm—I could no more have listen-

MISS GREGG WINS MEDAL HOSTESS AT TEA

WINS MEDAL

Miss Margaret Gregg, 756 W. North-st., presided at a beautifully appointed 5 o'clock tea at the Lima Club Monday, as a compliment to Miss Violet L. Bradley, whose marriage to Calvin F. Selfridge will be an event of December 30.

Red and white was the predominant color scheme effectively carried out, the guests being seated at one long table, attractively arranged with three mounds of poinsettias and narcissus. Red candles in crystal holders formed the lighting effect, while the appointments were clever Christmas suggestions.

Miss Gregg's guests, who included intimate friends of the bride-elect, were: Mesdames W. C. Bradley, O. B. Selfridge, H. C. Sterling, M. S. Thompson, W. L. Parmenter, R. T. Gregg, C. N. Keyes, Forster Robinson, E. J. Curtis, Fred Bradley, Mark Koller, T. R. Schoonover, A. D. Hildreth, Chester M. Cable, Emmett R. Curtis Jr., Harry Gayer, Elizabeth Brice Wilson, George MacDonell, Clarence Klingner, Wallace H. King, Fred Gooding, Roy B. Gregg, Warren Parmenter, Harry Wright Jr., John W. Roby, Mrs. Dwight O'Ferrall, Greensboro, N. C. Harry W. Fenton, John R. Carnes, Lynn Thimberman.

Misses Josephine Carleton, Eloise Cunningham, Annette and Martha Roby, Florence Price, Anna Bradley, Margaret Graham, Elizabeth Clark, Mary Wynne, Edith Simpson, Helen Basinger, Gertrude Rose and the honor guest.

Miss Leona Bernatkin, Barbara Ann-co, W. Market-st., was hostess to the members of her bridge club with a buffet supper on Monday evening at 7 o'clock. Centering the table was an attractively arranged bowl of roses, while at either side were red candles in brass holders. The Christmas cards were carried out in appointments. During the evening tables were arranged for bridge and at the conclusion of the play, Miss Ruth Wells was high among the members, while Miss Kathryn Itach, the only guest, received a lovely remembrance.

The club will meet on January 5 with Miss Helen McGinnis, W. Wayne-st.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I fell in love with a man who was married and had a child. It seems to me that I am a fool for doing so. I am sure that I am a fool for doing so. I am sure that I am a fool for doing so.

That would be an unwise thing to do. And don't tell yourself that you can't put the man out of your thoughts. You can't. You only will. Thousands of people have done this very thing and found happiness afterward.

Dear Miss Smart: I had a quarrel and since then he has stopped calling me up. The whole thing was unaccountably his fault, but I am sure that I am a fool for doing so. I am sure that I am a fool for doing so.

No, indeed. If he started the quarrel, the apology should come from him. You have forever cheapened yourself if you pursue a man with phone calls and explanations.

Dear Miss Smart: My mother-in-law tries to teach me how to do my housework the way she does her. I resent this. Would it be rude of me to ask her to find my own methods? NEWLYWED.

Yes. She's undoubtedly trying to be kind to you. And there's a lot that an inexperienced housewife can learn from one who has had experience. Be grateful for your mother's interest.

Dear Miss Smart: The man I love doesn't care for books and plays and the things that mean everything to me. Nor do I care about the sport page and prize fights. The longer we are engaged the more I wonder if we will be happy together. Ought we not to have more tastes in common? CERTAIN.

Wise men have said that the law of opposites should govern marriage. Men and women rarely have the same tastes. The fact that you are not sure you will be happy with your man makes me rather doubt that you love him as you ought to. Love is certainty.

Dear Miss Smart: A man who used to like me a lot has stopped calling me up. I am sure that I am a fool for doing so. I am sure that I am a fool for doing so.

It would be very foolish of you. To pursue a man is to lose him.

Dear Miss Smart: My husband just perched on his hands and feet. I have told him that a gentleman never does this, and he has never done it again. I am sure that I am a fool for doing so. I am sure that I am a fool for doing so.

Not one man in a thousand does use perfume, but if your husband likes it, it's better to say nothing about it than to quarrel about such an unimportant thing. A quarrel never really can be patched up. It always leaves bitterness behind it.

Dear Miss Smart: I am going south for a month and expect to swim a great deal. Is there a water-proof rouge? I can't buy any. TWENTY-TWO.

There are several kinds of water-proof rouge on the market. Many of them irritate the skin and they are laced with cold cream.

An interesting meeting of the Round Table club was held Monday afternoon with Mrs. Clarence Winemiller, 327 N. Collett-st. LAKE SUPERIOR SHIPS ARE ACCOUNTED FOR

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—With all ships known to have been on Lake Superior during the Sunday gale accounted for, coast guard stations today believed that wreckage washed ashore during the storm and at first thought from a foundered freighter, was from the ill-fated Glen Lyon that went down Nov. 1.

The Glen Lyon broke up on rocks at Rock Harbor, Isle Royale.

LEAK SUSPECTED WARREN, O.—Sheriff John F. Thomas, preparing to serve more warrants on persons indicted for the riot of Nov. 1, today was investigating a leak suspected after it was learned some of the 11 men arrested yesterday and last night had made advance arrangements for $1,000 bail required from each. The arrests of last night bring the total to 48, which includes nine who were arrested before the grand jury investigation and who were named in the nine open indictments out of the total of one hundred and four.

SILLS WILL QUIT SCREEN

Famous Star to Become A Director and Work Behind Scenes

HOLLYWOOD — (By United Press) — Milton Sills, one of the dominant figures of the screen, is to step out of the “frame” at the height of his popularity as an actor and, spurning offers of big roles, more money and greater fame, set forth on a new career.

Sills is to take up the direction of motion pictures. Neither money nor whim has induced this man, who has endeared himself to movie hosts the world over, to put down the grease-stick for a new undertaking which entails the tedious toil associated with mastery of detail and a matching of virtuosity with the practiced peers of a difficult profession.

A dissatisfaction with what the screen offers is at the bottom of Sills' determination. “Too many pictures are made by formula,” Sills complained in an interview with the United Press. “A school of simulation, as it might be termed, has grown up in our profession. A picture wins favorable comment and big box-office returns, and, presto, one hundred agents seek to sell one hundred producers the cleverly disguised idea already screened, and a good percentage of the latter fall for the subterfuge, most of them with open eyes, foreseeing a tragic end for the type of story told.”

It is with the hope of rescuing pictures from enslavement by hack writers and pattern directors that Sills has determined on invasion of directorial ranks.

With these dreams of the artistic expansion of the film drama, Sills will take up the directorial megaphone. Whether or not he can make them come true, he means to be determined at least, it will be an interesting experiment.

COUNTY IS BIG

Two Principal Towns Are 115 Miles Apart

SPRING FALLS, S. D.—(By Associated Press)—Sturgis and Faith are the two principal towns in McLeod county, South Dakota. At the election Nov. 4, the residents of both towns voted on the same candidates for sheriff and auditor and other county officials down to coroner.

Yet the two cities are 115 miles apart as the crow flies. Sturgis, the county seat, is in the western fringe of South Dakota's Black Hills, and is a tributary by rail to Sioux City, Ia., and Omaha, Neb. Faith, its sister city, is in the heart of the cattle country, and is tributary by rail to the Twin Cities.

McLeod county contains 3,491 square miles of territory. Armstrong county reports having more miles in the statewide out-of-the-vote campaign, and reported a record ballot, although it had to do with to record 14 votes from its single precinct.

Prior to this year the county had never mustered more than 100 votes and these were called from an uncertain population which numbered 64 persons in the last census. The county is now an organized political entity, and its 13 odd townships are given over to the cattle and farming population of Sioux and Nebraska and is all reservation territory.

Armstrong county is without a postoffice address. No politician as ever known to set foot within its borders.

ARM BUREAU HOLDS AN INTERESTING MEETING

COLDWATER — (Special) — The Marion-tp Farm Bureau held an interesting meeting at the community hall at Maria Stein where a session was addressed by O. Pearson of Miami-co, on the best “How Can I Make This Farm Pay Dividends.”

Pearson explained the cooperative system of buying and selling and said the slogan of the farm should be “cooperation, not competition.”

A representative of the New Central railroad gave an illustrated talk on how to cross roads with safety and spoke of relations between farmers and carriers and showed by picture correct method of loading and unloading cars for shipment.

PRETTIEST CAPITAL CLERK

Miss Margaret Mattare will take the leading part of “Miss Federation” in “Uncle Sam's Follies,” the show being staged in Washington by the girls employed in government offices.

Ham Wrigley Jr., Robert M. Stewart, Lawrence Whiting and others.

Financing of the project is assured, according to Whiting, whose company financed the American Furniture Mart, building recently completed here.

The building would front on Michigan Boulevard at the junction with the Chicago river, with docks for passenger and freight boats and warehouse facilities and would include a suburban train station.

Efforts will be made to have the structure completed by May 1, 1927, according to Whiting.

RECOVERED

OTTAWA — Henry J. Deters, of Glandorf, deputy county clerk of courts, who sustained injuries in a motor car collision more than a week ago, following a holiday, two men has recovered sufficiently to go to Ottawa Monday for a short stay with friends. It will be more than a week before Deters will be able to resume his duties in the clerk's office. It is expected.

PORTRAITS ARE POPULAR

Works of Samuel Morse Wanted by Artists

PHILADELPHIA—(By Associated Press)—It is not generally remembered today that Samuel

F. B. Morse, founder of the American system of magnetic telegraph, was a portrait painter, in his early days, of considerable and deserved reputation. In his generation he was regarded with Gilbert C. Stuart and Thomas Sully as a great artist. In later life his inventions in the electric field were of such magnitude that he is associated largely as an inventor in the public mind.

The Art Alliance of Philadelphia has decided to hold an exhibition of the portraits painted by Morse, and this will be the first public effort to bring before the American public his artistic achievements. To this end the Alliance is preparing a catalog of Morse's portraits, and endeavoring to make the list complete. It feels there may be a number of his pictures in the country of which it has as yet no record.

The exhibition probably will be held in Philadelphia as soon as the Morse portraits can be located and assembled.

Pile Sufferers Get Quick Relief

Mr. H. P. Seaman of Abington, Mass., writes: "I have had piles for 25 years and you can imagine the number of remedies I have tried, but I never had any real relief until a neighbor of mine, Mr. F. E. Perkins, gave me a box of your Hamadala Tablets."

Mr. Eugene F. Diener of Duaneville, Ontario, writes: "I wish to thank you for the benefit I have received from using your tablets for piles. I have suffered with bleeding piles for over 20 years and have tried everything, from the best doctors to all the advertised remedies, but Hamadala is the only thing that ever helped me."

The Hamadala Treatment is sold by Argonne Drug Store, Mutter's Drug Stores, Green's Public Drug Store and all good druggists under a rigid guarantee. Out of town sufferers can obtain them by mail. Price $1.00. The Hamadala Co., Box 448, Buffalo, N. Y.
